THE RAYMOND LION
Could This Be Your Dad?

R. Roy Keaton
Director-General Lions International
June 17 will be celebrated as Father's Day. I vividly recall that once when I was in high school my father took me to a dry goods store and bought me a new suit of clothes. While we were making the purchases my father saw a suit that he admired very much, and he remarked to the clerk that gray was his favorite color and he had wanted a new gray suit like that for a long time. My father tried the suit on. He looked handsome in it, but he hesitatingly decided not to buy it. We left the store without it.

In my youthful way I could not understand why my father didn't go ahead and buy the suit. When we had left the store I inquired why. My father answered quietly that he did not have the money to spare just then; he needed it to buy food and clothes and essentials for his growing children. The conversation then drifted into something else.

On that very day I made a determined, solemn vow—childish though it was—that someday, somehow I would save my money and buy my father a handsome gray suit just like the one he had admired in the store. It was more than a passing fancy with me, for I thought about it and planned it for days.

And now after the years have passed and it is too late, I more easily realize the struggle my father had—the hard work, the daily grind, the fears and anxieties, the constant hope for better things tomorrow, the ambitions and dreams that never fully materialized.

I have heard my mother say many times what a fine young man my father had been when they were married. She in her flaring flounces, he in his new broad-shouldered, tight waisted suit. "He looked handsome," she said, as her thoughts trailed off across the years with a sad nostalgia.

My father, like millions of others, was in his early twenties when he put aside his fine feathers and began a man's real fight, a fight to give his children a break. A young man, just a growing boy, filled with hopes, laughter, seriousness, dreams and ambitions.

In 1907 my father and mother left the Volunteer State of Tennessee and moved their family and belongings to Texas. In those days it was a long trip. Oh, the new adventures that filled their souls. New surrounding and a new world, so to speak. Above the homesickness, anticipation, ambition and hopeful dreams filled their souls.

There were five children in our family—five children each two years apart—five children growing out of clothes and kicking out of shoes. Food, clothes, doctor bills, payments on the house, insurance, books education—those incidentals always cost so much.

So my dad, like yours, put away his youth, so to speak, and bent his back and energies to the load just like so many other wonderful fathers have done, are doing, and will continue to do.

My dad always wanted to travel. He did little of it. He would have gotten so much out of it, but he did not always have the money.

My father had hundreds of friends. He hated no one. He had friends because he was friendly. He believed in his Church. He wasn't merely a member, he was a hard working member and he gave liberally of his time, means and energies. I have often thought how he would have enjoyed being a member of a Lions Club and how active he would have been in it.

We are planning to leave here on the fifth or sixth of July for eastern Canada where we will visit friends and relatives and also pick up a new car for a friend. Our proposed holiday holds a lot of fun and enjoyment for us and we hope yours do the same for you.

New By-Law Passed

At the regular meeting of the Town Council on Monday By Law No 466 concerning the restraint of animals running at large was passed. This By Law provides fines and possible jail sentences for owners of livestock or poultry that is allowed to run loose.

Just Penning Thanks (Margaret Huszar)

Graduation! Magic word, spelling many things, and edged with heart break.

For weeks the graduate lives in a dream world, an aura of excitement. Then the much awaited night comes.

Lovely formal, sweet scents of flowers and perfume, the pictures, the butterflies that will not sit still in one's stomach, the march in, the feeling of importance, and finally the long speeches and the presentation of the graduates—this is the climax. Then the graduate begins to think. Behind the half-shy, half proud smile lies a mind that weeps. Gone forever the childhood ways. We are grownup. Something infinitely precious has been lost, almost in a second, more beautiful, has taken its place. We are citizens of tomorrow. Tonight is our initiation into adulthood. Tonight we choose our path. This is the beginning.

Weep no more, kind reader! The sunbeams are coming through! This is my last article! Thank you for listening to me all these weeks, and thank you Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton for having given me this opportunity. It was a wonderful experience.

I want to publicly thank the teachers who, by their untiring efforts have helped the students in the RHS to newer horizons. I'm sure I speak for the whole school, especially the graduates.

Good-bye everybody, and thanks again.

Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Copplesters wish to express their heartfelt thanks to all those who took part on the program at the Reception for Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bartisoff, also to Jimmie Heninger who acted as M. C. for the program. Thanks alot.

Mrs. Alice Court and Rube Snow are visiting their family in Castlegar B. C. this week.

Golden Anniversary

Mahonri Young, son of Brigham Young, when he began his famous "This Is The Place" Monument, said "A country which forgets its past will never have a future worth remembering".

I Remember

My father Charles McCarthy was born in Ohio in 1850 of Irish parents. In his youth he drove a bull-team to Utah where he decided to stay. His first work was driving a stage from Salt Lake City to Pioche, Nevada. Later he met and married Mary Mercer of American Fork, Utah. They made their home in American Fork where father was engaged in cattle raising.

In 1895 father went to Southern Alberta to look at the country, and was so impressed with its grassy prairies that the next summer he returned with his two sons Charles and Wilson. He shipped his cattle and horses by train to Helena, Montana and then drove over land the rest of the way. Mother and I followed later that summer by train.

Father settled in the Spring Coulee district and the ranch was known as the Spring Coulee ranch or the D-K Ranch.

In 1901 Raymond was selected as a townsite. A buffalo head was placed where the flag pole now stands, marking the center of the town. Father, mother, my brother Wilson and John W. Taylor were there at the dedication.

Father purchased the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Knight. I recall many happy years in that home.

Father was Raymond's first Mayor. I remember when the Duke of Connaught made a visit to Raymond and father had to give a speech of welcome. It was quite an occasion and mother wanted father to look just right and be dressed in keeping with the occasion. She felt that a broad brim hat and cowboy boots were not just the thing to wear. There were conflicting opinions, but mother won and "Sunday-best" were the order of the day.

Father and mother never regretted their move to Canada. There were many struggles and hardships but more pleasures and happy memories.

Father passed away in Raymond on November 8, 1926 of a heart attack. He had three children: Charles who is now deceased; Wilson, who is President of the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad; and Marjorie, wife of DeVoe Woolf. Mr. Woolf was a teacher and principal in Raymond and passed away three years ago in Salt Lake City. Father and mother also adopted a daughter, Leah, who died in her youth in Raymond.

Sincerely

Marjorie Woolf

Opera House To Form Part Of New School

It has been announced that the LDS Church has sold the Opera House to the Raymond School District for $40,000.00. The detailed plans of the construction of the classrooms to be built on to the Opera House, are now being worked on by the architects. This move will save the District approximately $50,000.00 in the construction of the new High School. The Opera House will be left as is for the time being.

The LDS Church will make an addition to the Recreation Hall of the Stake House to provide a regulation size basketball floor and other gym facilities.

The Legion Ladies awarded $25.00 scholarships to Elaine Larson and Allan Tollestrup, Grade ten students, at the High School.

The recent musical "Going Places" was—in very plain words—a financial flop. The whole project was for the benefit of the School Band but there were no proceeds to give to them after the expenses were paid. However, the Auxiliary decided to donate $25.00 to the Band anyway.

The Whist drives are finished for the summer and the ladies are now planning for a Pabtry Sale and Bazaar to be held the second week in September.

The Ladies Auxiliary will be catering at the Legion Hall for a dinner on July 2nd. A whopping good meal will cost 75¢

40 Students Graduate

June time is Graduation time and that means that forty students in Raymond are at the peak of their home-town education. Recently 23 young men and women graduated from the LDS Church sponsored Seminary with impressive graduation exercises held at the Stake House. Seminary teacher W. L. Nalder and his students are to be congratulated on their fine program.

Last Friday night seventeen members of the senior class at the High School were graduated in ceremonies held in the Stake House. The Commencement Address was given by C. B. Watson, Inspector of High Schools, who spoke on the local High School's motto "True Worth is in Being Not Seeming."

The Valedictory Address was given by Laurie Harker and School Board Chairman, J. Golden Snow spoke briefly on behalf of the Board. Gifts were presented to the graduates by M. T. King on behalf of the School.

The Graduation Dance was held in the beautifully decorated Opera House as a fitting conclusion for the years of efforts both the students and their teachers have put into their Public and High School education.

Local Organization Set Up For TB Work

Mr. Baxter, the advance agent for Alberta Tuberculosis Association, was in Town Wednesday night. He organized a campaign for the X-Ray Unit to visit Raymond during the last two weeks in July.

2 Elders to Leave Soon

A Farewell Service was held Sunday evening in the Third Ward honoring Richard Heninger and Jimmy Anderson, who leave for missions shortly.

A few remarks were made by Wm. Anderson and Wilford Heninger, followed by a piano trio consisting of Willa Rae and Reita Walker and Rex Trickson. Mrs. Beatrice Anderson and J. S. Anderson were the next speakers after which Glen Walker rendered a vocal solo. Bishop Dahl, Melvin King and Maurice Heninger all spoke briefly after which Mary Snow played an organ solo. Jim and Richard were the concluding speakers.

"Grandma" Collett Is Laid To Rest

Funeral Services for the late Mrs. Jane Duncan Collett were held in the Third Ward Chapel on Saturday June 9 with Bishop Rulon Dahl conducting. The choir was directed by Mrs. Ruth Salmon and was accompanied by Emma Dahl.

The opening hymn "Though Deepening Trials" was followed by the prayer offered by David Meldrum. The choir then sang "O My Father" and President L. L. Palmer spoke of the full and useful life of Mrs. Collett and the eternal reward of the Celestial Kingdom.

L. D. King, a friend and neighbor for many years, spoke of the sterling character of "Grandma Collett" and offered words of comfort and advice to read and study the scripture and keep all commandments.

James Weaver, a grandson, sang a beautiful rendition of "Face to Face." Bishop Haynes of Taber, another longtime friend was the next speaker and quoted scriptures comparing the wonderful life of Mrs. Collett to the goodly neighbor in the Good Samaritan. He said: "A welcome mat was always spread by Mrs. Collett and a helping hand was always given to the needy and the sick." He spoke comforting words to the family and friends and told them to follow the exemplary life of Mrs. Collett.

Bishop Dahl then paid high tribute to the deceased and said it was his assignment to call, as a Ward Teacher at her home years ago. He remembered her for her cheerfulness and sharp wit which she maintained all her 92 years. She enjoyed people and was happy to renew many acquaintances during her brief return to Raymond.

Aziel Stevenson sang the solo part in the closing song "I Know That My Redeemer Lives" and Bishop Wm. Jensen pronounced the benediction.

Interment was in the Temple Hill Cemetery with Bishop J. Golden Snow dedicating the grave. Pallbearers were five grandsons, DeMoe, Jack, Ross and Keith Nilsson and James Weaver and one great grandson, Harold Larson.

No man ever meant more to me than my father. There never was a finer, friendlier man. It was more than childish love and admiration. It was something far deeper than that. There was compassion, comradeship, companionship, comfort, understanding, protection, support and faith. Today I can still feel the touch of his hand and the warmth of his smile.

But about the gray suit. One day back in October, 1928, just about 23 years ago I was attending the university when an emergency telephone call came. A voice told me that my father had been in a tragic car accident. He was suddenly gone. The next day amid blinding tears of bitter grief I bought a new gray suit, a suit that I believe he would have liked, but it was too late. Oh, the heart-rending tragedy of those words "too late". Allen D. Keaton—just another father. Just another very wonderful dad who knew the true meaning of love and sacrifice and gave up many of glasses.

The Master must have been thinking of fathers when he said "Greater love has no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his".

NOBLE MODEL M

the cultivator that gives

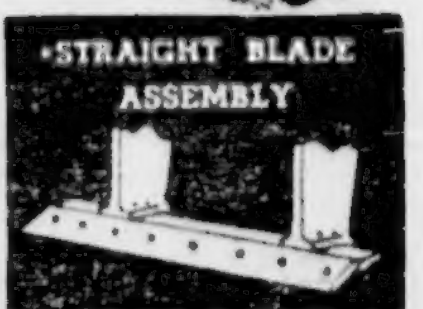

Outstanding Performance
IN CHANGING SOIL CONDITIONS

Designed to handle ALL SOIL CONDITIONS easily, Noble Cultivator attachments can be supplied for any soil condition. No cultivator without attachments can suit all conditions. Even where a plow will not penetrate, as for after-harvest work in certain dry baked soils, the Noble straight blade attachment will usually penetrate and work satisfactorily.

For weeding and second stroke summerfallow work the weeder blade is readily interchangeable, going on the same frog as the regular shovel blade. This weeder assures a better weed kill than the ordinary blade and should be used wherever the ground is sufficiently loose that it will penetrate. It clears through, penetrates and withstands rocks where the ordinary rod weeder will not.

The Model M shown above is very popular for use with Noble squadron hitches, from two to seven in a unit, for large power.

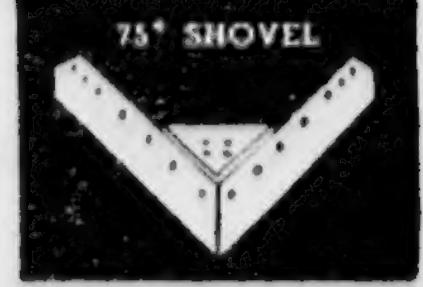

Write for information, stating your soil type and tractor power.

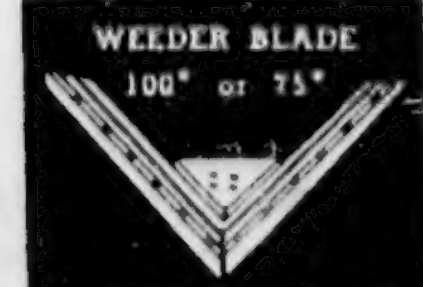

For better penetration in extremely hard ground. For extra deep work.

Best for reasonably firm soils and most ordinary conditions.

For sandy soils and very loose textured black soils, particularly where grassy patches occur.

For all weeding and summerfallow work after the ground has first been loosened by the regular blade. File on the same frog as the regular blade.

Local Happenings

Of Years Gone By

With Special Thanks to Mrs. Elizabeth King

As Raymond's Golden Anniversary celebration draws near, let us turn back the historic curtain of our town and dwell in the past by glancing through the pages of Raymond's local newspapers of long ago, which will bring to the memory of the older folk happenings of earlier days, and of associations with friends, some of whom are no longer with us.

To you younger generations these news items in Raymond's first local paper "The Chronicle" published March 24, 1903, R. O. Mattheson, Editor.

Jesse Knight, President of the Knight Sugar Company and the founder of Raymond, arrived here from Utah on Wednesday. He will spend a few days here looking after his many extensive interests in the district. This is Mr. Knight's first visit this year and he is agreeably surprised at the growth and progress of the town.

Bishop Knight has had plans prepared for a modern residence which he will build on Columbia Avenue. The plans are now in the hands of contractors.

In addition to the large interests of Mr. Knight in the Sugar Company he has invested heavily in ranching land. With his son Raymond, under the name of Knight and son, has one ranch near here on which 6,000 steers range, while the Knight Ranching Co. have another range with 14,000 sheep and 5,000 cattle.

Twelve settlers with over four hundred head of cattle arrived on Monday from Utah.

There are fifteen residences now being built in Raymond, while a score more are being planned.

R. E. Allen's sheep camp outfit, located about four miles South of town went up in flames on Friday night during the absence of the guardians.

Four carloads of settlers effects came in on Friday from the South.

The land held by the Knight Sugar Company has been divided into 40 and 80 acre lots which are fast being occupied by prospective beet growers.

INCORPORATION — The Preliminary Steps Taken Toward Cityhood. Less than two years old and yet ready to associate on terms of equality with the towns founded ten years and more ago, is Raymond's record—by no means a poor one.

Construction work on the Sugar Factory is well under way with two hundred men to be put on the work. The construction work is being done by E. H. Dyer and Co. of Cleveland. Engineer Arthur Thelin is being sent out to begin the work. The excavations were made by him and much of the machinery received while he was in charge.

A few weeks ago G. M. Bradrick arrived from Cleveland to superintend the construction and the work will be in his hands until turned over to the Sugar Company.

Postmaster McCarthy will have the distributing portion of the Post Office enlarged at once so as to accommodate the several hundreds who receive their mail at this point.

President Allen spent part of last week in Raymond and in visiting other towns of the Taylor Stake.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Heninger recently married in Salt Lake City, returned home last week accompanied by the bride's mother, Mrs. McKenna.

B. F. Keilhor, principal of the Raymond school began his duties last week. He arrived on New Years Day.

Clarence Allred who has been in Raymond for the past two years returned home to attend school at the BYU at Provo this winter.

—Lehi Banner

Thomas Mendenhall came down from Raymond last week to spend the winter, leaving his brother Jesse to hold the claim. He is pleased with prospects and will return in the Spring. —Springville Independent

December 5th, 1905—B. S. Young Ed.

There was a goodly number in attendance at the meeting of the Agricultural Society held in the district School house on Saturday evening with J. W. Knight, president of the Society, presiding. . . Acting on the suggestion of appointing judges to make awards on fields of growing grain, the following gentlemen were appointed: Isaac Roberts, E. Laycock, Wm. Bullock, W. C. Card, J. T. O'Brien.

Election of officers to serve for the coming year was held with the following elected: Geo. W. Green, Pres.; T. J. O'Brien, Vice.; E. Laycock 2nd; F. B. Rolfsen, Sec. Treas.

A list of new directors is as follows: Mrs. Dr. Rivers, Mrs. J. W. Knight, Mrs. H. C. Jacobs, A. G. Burrett, R. H. McDuffee, H. S. Allen, I. M. Johnston, E. S. Martin, A. E. Moore, J. W. Knight, Chas. McCarthy, E. B. Hicks, Wm. Bullock, B. K. Bullock and Chas. Selman.

The season's run at the Raymond factory closes tonight with a record of 18,000 tons of beets cut and 4,800,000 lbs. of refined sugar produced. The run is, in the nature of things, the most successful yet made. The average beet productiveness is about the same as 1904 and the demand for the finished product is greater than at any time since the erection of the factory. The sugar industry has come to stay, and if we will stay with it we will partake of the prosperity that will make this one of the best sugar producing districts of the West, if not the world.

Why doesn't the MIA engage Wm. Palmer to deliver a course of lectures on Ancient America and allow him time sufficient to treat the subject exhaustively? It would prove an interesting and instructive venture and incidentally, profitable also.
